What a Woman's Influence Did.

Collins B. Day writes us a lengthy letter from Prescott, Arizona, a long letter for publication—in which he links together the vicissitudes of his career thus: Ran away from home when he was sixteen years old; went to California and became addicted to dissipation; came to Pioche, worked in the mines, and squandered all his hard-earned money at saloons and gaming tables; left here penniless, with a small supply of grub, and brought up in St. George, where he traded off next to his last shirt for cold victuals enough to carry him to St. Thomas, on the Muddy; there a big-hearted and big-souled old lady made him promise to abstain from strong drink in the future; from there he went to Walla Walla, where he resided to successfully observe his promise, which he did; thence he went to Prescott, Arizona, where, through temperance and economy he was soon able to remit to his aged mother a good-sized greenback, being the first communication with his family for sixteen years. In reply to this letter he received a check for $500, and the intelligence that his father had died, leaving him the old homestead, valued at $40,000, and he was lovingly forgiven for his truancy and allowed to return to the home of his boyhood comfort his mother in her declining years, and enjoy the ample fortune bequeathed him. We give publicity to this little biographical sketch of Collins B. Day, as requested, because it contains a moral which should not be lost in a country where so many are leading dissolute and abandoned lives, homeless and unknown to wholesome parental restraint; and further, that he may express his gratitude to his noble benefactress, who, he says, "sheds heavenly lustre in her humble home at St. Thomas."

TIMBER MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

Some prospectors arrived yesterday from the south. They report they found one solitary miner in Timber Mountain district, in the extreme southeastern part of Lincoln county. The area there are of very low grade, but the veins are of immense extent, and that section must, some time in the future, prove of great importance for lead production, if not for silver. Our informants think enough of that section to be making arrangements to return at an early day. They say they found some very rich float rock in the country west of Timber Mountain, and they have high hopes of "striking it rich" on their return.

OFF ON PROFESSIONAL BUSINESS.

Yesterday morning's coach Col. H. I. Thornton, Judge Garber, Mr. Wescott, the mining engineer and expert, and Col. Sumner, the short-hand reporter, left for Eureka, all of whom are engaged in the mining suit pending there between the Eureka Consolidated and Richmond Mining Companies. The dispatch announcing that the proposed compromise had failed was received day before yesterday in the evening. The trial will commence next Monday. Col. Thornton is retained by the Eureka Consolidated, and Judges Garber and Hardy represent the Richmond.

We clip the following from the Salt Lake Herald of the 13th: Mr. Frank C. Minshall, the gentlemanly and urbane attaché of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office in this city, is ordered to Pioche to take charge of the company's express department there. Frank is a downright good fellow, as obliging as he is polite; and we ask our Pioche neighbors to treat him tenderly.

INCANTATION.—The Mongolians have been, during the week, exploding firecrackers by wholesale and burning tapers on all sides of their abodes. This, it is said, is their method of exorcising evil spirits and making the devil keep his distance. It must be a period fraught with unusual peril according to their superstitious calendar, or may be the violent death of the Chinese doctor, the other day, has something to do with it.

D. P. COCHRAN, for some months past having supervision of the tailoring department of the clothing house of Mahoney & O'Toole, leaves on this morning's coach to accept a situation in a San Francisco merchant tailoring establishment. Mr. Cochran is a thorough master of his business, and our best wishes attend him in thus changing his base.

HAMILTON'S SALOON.—Earl Hamilton has renovated and improved his saloon and billiard hall greatly. Among the improvements are some of Myers' patent spring-cushion carom billiard tables. Earl is determined to maintain the reputation of his saloon for elegance and unsurpassed accommodations. Inferior brands of liquors are not allowed to cross his bar.

GOING TO BULLIONVILLE.—The Variety Troupe will give their last performance in Pioche to-night. They go from here to Bullionville, where they will play on Monday and Tuesday nights, and then return to Salt Lake. Our Bullionville friends may expect enough fun from them to keep them laughing until the railroad is put in operation. In their respective specialties they are first-class.

A DEER SHOT.—A fine black tailed buck was shot, one day last week, we understand, within ten miles of this city, by one of a party of prospectors. It was brought down on the south side of the mountain southeast of Highland. We had thought this noble game was not to be found within fifty miles of the city.

SEVERAL HER-FOOTS have been robbed lately, and one of the irate owners was yesterday hunting feathers in Chinatown with a shotgun. Chinamen are fond of chickens; but other folks are, too, and there are a few white-skinned scallwags here who know more petty meanness than the average Chinaman ever dreamed of.

A NUMBER of Southern California live stock owners have selected grazing tracks on the West Fork of the Muddy, forty or fifty miles below Pahranagat Lake. We are glad to see the country around us thus filling up, but would be better pleased to hear of a farming immigration.

WANT FARMS.—A number of business men of Pioche are about to send out an agent to make selections of farm sites for them. We are glad to note this increasing interest in the agricultural development of the country.

COUNTY BONDS DELIVERED.—County bonds, representing an aggregate indebtedness of $100,000, were yesterday delivered to various citizens who have returned scrip thereto as provided by the enactment of the last Legislature.

NEW STREET COMMISSIONER.—We understand that the County Commissioners have appointed Ham. McKillip as Street Commissioner, vice Cinque Barnes, resigned. Mr. McKillip will fill the office efficiently.

We notice that grading is being done on some of the lots in the vicinity of the Court-house, and presumes this is preparatory to the erection of buildings on them.

PIOCHE AGAINST THE WORLD.—We will bet a new hat that there is not another town of the same size in America as liberal as Pioche is in encouraging horse racing. We have at least three thousand inhabitants, the streets are always thronged with men, women and children, on business or pleasure, but we give up the principal thoroughfare any time for an exciting horse race. Two celebrated jockeys were yesterday entered on Main street for a quarter of a mile heat up Meadow Valley, and, considering the grade of the track, very good time was made. Considerable money changed hands on the occasion, we have been told.

A ROW TIMELY SUPPRESSED.—Officer

McKee, yesterday evening, happened, "just in the nick of time," to arrive at the scene of a threatened row between Main and Cedar streets. Violent threats were being made and a pistol had been drawn, we understand. The officer arrested the malcontents—who were afterwards released, there having been no actual assault, and they promising to maintain peaceful relations towards each other in the future.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.—A man was arrested in Boone & Dolman's corral, about half-past eight o'clock last night, on the charge of having stolen two saddles from Boone & Dolman's stable late night before last or early yesterday morning. A part of one of the saddles was found under the man's blankets about noon yesterday. The accused will have an examination before Justice Stoutenburgh this forenoon.

STALACTITES.—We have been shown some very beautiful stalactites or crystal pendants from the Cave mine at Bristol. Some of them were as clear as diamond, some rose-colored, and others reflected all the hues of the rainbow. They are found in great profusion between the walls and the mineral vein of that celebrated mine.

CHINESE IMMIGRANTS.—A number of Chinese, the majority being females, arrived day before yesterday, and were put in stalls down among the lower main street dens of opium fumes and iniquity. A little of that sort of increase of population "will go a long way."

MONTANA MINE.—A meeting of the owners of the Montana mine will be held at the office of T. A. Stentenburgh, the Treasurer of the company, on Sunday evening, May 18, up stairs over Berner's saloon.

The holders of Page & Panama stock were greatly excited for a while yesterday, by a report which had got about that one of them had been struck in the works of that company. The report was without foundation.

DISSOLUTION OF CO-PARTNERSHIP.—As will be seen by an advertisement in this issue, the partnership between Hardin & Strong, engaged in the saloon business, has been dissolved by mutual consent.

ARRIVAL OF BISHOP WITAKER.—This

eminent divine has arrived in Pioche, and will, we understand, officiate in the Episcopal church to-morrow forenoon and afternoon.

The falling weather we have been having has reinvigorated vegetation. The wild grasses are springing up with new life all around us.

yesterday for Pioche: Fannie Taylor, Mrs. E. Hammond and C. F. Hayward.

GRAIN ARRIVED.—Forty tons of grain, from Utah, have been delivered to one firm in the city within the last two days.

NEW WATER-TANKS.—New water-tanks of large size, are being erected by the Raymond & Miley Company.

REMOVED.—Miley & Laage, confection-ers, have removed to the next door above Halpin & Co., on Main street.

Mr. J. C. AYRES, just in from Prescott,

Arizona, having been ten days on the road, paid us a visit last night. We find him a very intelligent gentleman, and he gave us some valuable information in regard to Arizona resources, which we shall probably make use of at some future time. He says times are dull at Prescott on account of the lack of water to work the placer mines and to irrigate in the agricultural districts. But the people were jubilant over the subjugation of the Indians by General Crook, and, upon the whole, feel more hopeful and in better spirits than ever before. The Salt River and Gila Valleys are filling up rapidly with agricultural settlers, and the breadth has been sown in grain that was re-cultivated before. Mr. Ayres found business very dull in Walapai Mining District, and many out of employment, but the claim-owners generally were happy in the belief that that country would bring them out all right if they would only stick to it long enough.

MULES STOLEN AND IDENTIFIED.—A young man from Parowan offered a span of very large mules for sale at Highland, Thursday, for $250. His offer was accepted by a Mr. Baldwin, of that place, who told the young man he would have to come to Pioche to get the mules; but his suspicions having been excited by the low price put on the animals, his real object in coming here was to post himself in regard to the title. Inquiries only served to still more excite his suspicions that the mules were stolen, and he consequently was finally elicited to warrant them being taken charge of as stolen property. They were turned over to the keeping of Boone & Dolman until yesterday afternoon, when L. Mulvahl, of this place, identified them as and proved them to be his mules. They had been stolen out of a pasture in Bullionville. The young man is now in jail, and will have a preliminary examination in the Justice's Court to-day.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOW OF MATRIMONY.

To-night Professor McDonald delivers his big lecture. It will be full of truth, fun and philosophy
